

As Director of Accountability Services at the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction (NCDPI), Tammy Howard oversees the statewide testing program and the accountability program, ensuring technical soundness and compliance with state and federal policy. After completing the requirements for a doctorate in Educational Research and Policy Analysis from North Carolina State University, Dr. Howard began a career in test and measurement. In her 15 years at the NCDPI, Dr. Howard has directed operations, policy, test development, and reporting. Previously, Dr. Howard was the state coordinator for the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) and was a senior research scientist with the American Institutes for Research in Washington, DC.