

2015 State Government Internship Program Listing

Alamance County

Melinda Lambert, a sophomore majoring in biology at UNC- Wilmington, has accepted the Summer Program Education internship, working with the Aquarium at Fort Fisher in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Kure Beach.

Archdale County

Will Rumley, a junior majoring in geography and geographic information systems at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Underwater Cultural Heritage Digital Development/Conversion internship, working with the Division of Historic Resources in the Department of Cultural Resources Kure Beach.

Beaufort

Mollie Crawford, a junior majoring in English at Elon University, has accepted the Marketing and Communication Intern: Business Income Tax eFile Initiative internship, working with the Division of Business Systems in the Department of Revenue Raleigh.

Brunswick

Anna Hart, a graduate student studying rehabilitation counseling and psychology at UNC – Chapel Hill, has accepted the WOW (World of Work) Youth Employment internship, working with the Division of Services for the Blind in the Department of Health and Human Services in Raleigh.

Bucks

Tara Scanlon, a first year law student at Elon University School of Law, has accepted the Judge Advocate General (JAG) internship, working with the Office of the National Guard in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Buncombe County

Israel Golden, a junior majoring in environmental studies at UNC-Ashville, has accepted the Environmental Education/Assistant Park Ranger internship, working with the Division of Parks and Recreation in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Kure Beach.

Araca Wadsworth, a junior majoring in social work at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Legislative – NC House of Representatives internship, working with the House of Representatives in the General Assembly in Raleigh.

Caldwell County

Anna Killian, a sophomore history major at Western Carolina University, has accepted the Junior Interpreter Supervisor and Visitor Services Assistant internship, working with the Division of Historic Sites in the Department of Cultural Resources Durham.

Catawba County

Quoc Thinh Truong, a sophomore double majoring in physics and mathematics at Lenoir-Rhyne University, has accepted the Energy Engineering internship, working with the Division of Adult Correction and Juvenile Justice in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Chowan County

Amanda Parker, a senior majoring in arts studies at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Museum Collections Assistant internship, working with the Division of History Museums in the Department of Cultural Resources in Elizabeth City.

Cleveland County

Ethan Fite, a junior majoring in biology – environmental track at North Greenville University, has accepted the Natural Resources Management Educator internship, working with the Division of Parks and Recreation in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Connelly Springs.

Cumberland County

Katherine Cadungog, a senior majoring in accounting at Methodist University, has accepted the Cost Analysis Mandated Law Enforcement In-Service Training internship, working with the Division of Training and Standards with the Department of Justice in Salemburg.

Cody Mead, a sophomore majoring in secondary education at Western Carolina University, has accepted the Coastal Reserve Education internship, working with the Division of Coastal Management in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Beaufort.

Currituck County

Bruce Hendrix, a senior majoring in political science at East Carolina University, has accepted the Assessment and Management of Coastal Fisheries Resources on the Outer Banks internship, working with the Division of Marine Fisheries in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Manteo.

Dare County

Samantha Godwin, a senior majoring in biology at Mars Hill University, has accepted the Natural Resources Management Assistant internship, working with the Division of Coastal Management in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Kitty Hawk.

Durham County

Carlos Benitez, a senior majoring in computer science at North Carolina Central University, has accepted the Computer Support Specialist internship, working with the Division of Adult Correction and Juvenile Justice in the Department of Public Safety.

Lydia Cozart, a junior majoring in criminal justice at UNC- Charlotte, has accepted the Auditing the Performance Measures of Crime Victims' Services Project internship, working with the Governor's Crime Commission in the Department of Public Safety.

Sarah Crump, a sophomore double majoring in journalism/mass communication and romance language at UNC – Chapel Hill, has accepted the NC State Fair Public Relations –Social Networking and Grassroots Marketing internship, working with the Division of Public Affairs in the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services in Raleigh.

Ashley Green, a graduate student majoring in social work at North Carolina Central University, has accepted the Volunteering Program Coordinator internship, working with the Division of State Operated Healthcare Facilities in the Department of Health and Human Services in Butner.

Madeline Hurley, a senior majoring in elementary education at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Legislative Research Assistant internship, working with the Senate in the General Assembly in Raleigh.

Denise Rich, a graduate student majoring in human science/child and family studies at North Carolina Central University, has accepted the Smartphones Usage in Enhancing Social Services Delivery internship, working with the Office of NC FAST in the Department of Health and Human Services in Raleigh.

Forsyth County

Sean McCabe, a sophomore double majoring in political science and peace, war and defense at UNC – Chapel Hill, has accepted the Government Affairs internship, working with the Commissioner’s Office in the Department of Labor in Raleigh.

Franklin County

Trevor Bowman, a senior majoring in community and regional planning at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Mobile GIS internship, working with the Division of State Property Office in the Department of Administration Raleigh.

Gaston County

Brittany Cabe, a junior majoring in appropriate technology at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Energy Engineering internship, working with the Division of Adult Correction and Juvenile Justice in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Guilford County

Kirubel Aysheshim, a graduate student majoring in applied economics at UNC-Greensboro, has accepted the Policy and Economic Analysis internship, working with the Division of Labor and Economic Analysis in the Department of Commerce in Raleigh.

Wesley Clary, a junior majoring in criminal justice at UNC-Charlotte, has accepted the Planning and Policy Analysis internship, working with the Division of Administration in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Sarah Freyaldenhoven, a sophomore majoring in political science at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Pre-release Employment Curriculum Designer internship, working with the Division of Adult Correction and Juvenile Justice in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Vincent Smith, a second year law student at Washing and Lee University School of Law, has accepted the Summer Intern for Court of Appeals in the Department of Justice in Raleigh

Harnett County

Emory Jacobs, a junior majoring in music at Methodist University, has accepted the Summerfest Concert Series Marketing and Development Coordinator internship, working with the North Carolina Symphony in the Department of Cultural Resources in Raleigh.

Sarah Walsh, a junior majoring in graphic design at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Graphic Design: Tourism, Marketing and Global Branding internship, working with the Division of Tourism, Marketing and Global Branding in the Department of Commerce in Raleigh

Henderson County

Anna Fosberg, a junior double majoring in history and peace, war and defense at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Constituent Services internship, working with the Office of Constituent Services in the Office of the Governor in Raleigh.

Iredell County

Alexa Chickene, a junior majoring in international studies at Elon University, has accepted the Historic Interpreter at Bennett Place State Historic Site internship, working with the Division of Historic Sites in the Department of Cultural Resources in Durham.

Johnston County

Savannah Bryant, a sophomore majoring in geology at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Curator Assistant internship, working with the Museum of Natural Sciences in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Lee County

Michael Silverman, a senior majoring in history at UNC-Wilmington, has accepted the Legal and Policy Affairs internship, working with the Ethics Commission in Raleigh.

McDowell County

Courtney Buchanan, a sophomore majoring in Biology/Pre-Med at Western Carolina University, has accepted the Volunteer Program internship, working with the Division of State Operated Healthcare Facilities in the Department of Health and Human Services in Morganton.

Mecklenburg County

Deirdre An, a sophomore majoring in environmental sciences at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Development of Marketing for Soil and Water Cost Share Programs, working with the Division of Soil and Water Conservation in the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services in Raleigh.

Brown, Olivia, a junior double majoring in chemistry and computer science at Meredith College, has accepted the Innovation Center Project internship, working with the Statewide Division in the Department of Information and Technology Services in Raleigh.

Morgan Freese, a junior majoring in environmental studies at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Special Activities Instructor internship, working with the Division of Aquariums in the Department of Environmental and Natural Sciences in Manteo.

Jean Lin, a junior majoring in environmental science/sustainability and geography/GIS at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the GIS Water Well Inventory internship, working with the Division of Water Resources in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Altavia Lower, a sophomore double majoring in journalism and public relations at East Carolina University, has accepted the NCDOT Media/Public Relations internship, working with the Communications Office in the Department of Transportation in Raleigh.

Tyler Rohrbach, a sophomore majoring in environmental sciences and marine science (biological oceanography) at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Fisheries and Habitat Assessment Surveys of Albemarle Sound internship, working with the Division of Marine Fisheries in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Elizabeth City.

Abed Sau, a sophomore majoring in computer science at North Carolina A&T State University, has accepted the Innovation Center Project internship, working with the innovation center project internship, working with the Statewide Division in the Department of Information and Technology Services in Raleigh.

Juan Segoviano, a junior majoring in computer science at UNC-Charlotte, has accepted the visual world investigate lab captain internship, working in with the Museum of Natural Sciences in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Shernika Smith, a second year law student at Charlotte School of Law, has accepted the summer internship at Court of Appeals, in the Department of Justice in Raleigh.

Robert Williams, a junior majoring in fisheries, wildlife and conservation biology at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Wildlife and Sea Turtle Educator – Outer Banks Center for Wildlife Education internship, working in with the Division of Wildlife Commission in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources.

Moore County

Charles Brereton, a sophomore majoring in political science at The George Washington University, has accepted the Constituent Services internship, working with the Office of Constituent Services in the Office of the Governor in Raleigh.

Michael Vaughn, a junior majoring in management at Clemson University, has accepted the criminal/intelligence analyst internship, working with the Division of Adult Correction and Juvenile Justice in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Nash County

William Ellis, a junior doubling majoring in history and international studies at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Historical Archives Manager/Curator internship, working with the Division of Parks and Recreation in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Chimney Rock.

New Hanover County

Sarah Burke, a senior majoring in public history at East Carolina University, has accepted the Public Programs Educator internship, working with the Division of Archives and History in the Department of Cultural Resources in Raleigh.

Brittany Hamilton, a junior majoring in accounting at North Carolina State University, has accepted the EAGLE Auditor internship, working with the Office of the Internal Auditor in the Department of Health and Human Services in Raleigh.

Christopher Maples, a junior majoring in industrial-organizational psychology at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Broughton Hospital Junior Mentor Program internship, working with the Division of State Operated Healthcare Facilities in the Department of Health and Human Services in Morganton.

Orange County

Nicolas Peckman, a sophomore majoring in mathematics at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the GIS Applications Developer internship, working with the National Guard in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Person County

Justin Garrett, a junior majoring in environmental sciences at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Meteorite Curation with Astrophysical Connections internship, working with the Museum of Natural Sciences – Research and Collections in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Randolph County

Kristen Scott, a junior majoring in accounting at Meredith College, has accepted the Jump Start Program internship, working with the Division of Taxpayer Assistance in the Department of Revenue in Raleigh.

Kayln Sisco, a junior majoring in electronic media/broadcasting, has accepted the Geomatics videographer: Instructional and historical video producer internship, working with the Division of Emergency Management in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Caitlin Boggs, a graduate student majoring in criminal justice at East Carolina University, has accepted the Legal Outcome in Child Homicides internship, working in the Division of Public Health in the Department of Health and Human Services in Raleigh.

Leah Byers, a senior majoring in sociology at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Office of the Lieutenant Governor internship, working with the Office of the Lieutenant Governor in Raleigh.

Wendy Harmon, a junior majoring in biology at Gardner-Webb University, has accepted the Wildlife Educator – Pisgah Center for Wildlife Education internship, working with the Wildlife Commission in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Pisgah Forest.

Stanly County

Shymari Huntley, a junior majoring in psychology at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Developing a School System Team System for North Carolina's 115 School System internship, working with the Division of Safe and Healthy Schools Support in the Department of Instruction in Raleigh.

Union County

Jon Douglas, a second year law student at Charlotte School of Law, has accepted the Law Clerk for Supreme Court Justice Internship, working with the Division of Supreme Court in the Department of Justice in Raleigh.

Wake County

Whitney Bell, a sophomore majoring in biology at Meredith College, has accepted the Summer Camp internship, working with the Museum of Natural Sciences in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Victoria Bell, a junior majoring in elementary education at Elon University, has accepted the Summer Camp internship, working with the Museum of Natural Sciences in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Kevin Brodie, II, a senior majoring in computer science at Norfolk State University, has accepted the Unified Communication Network Implementation Technician internship, working with the Division of Technology Services in the Administrative Offices of the Courts in Raleigh.

Christopher Brown, a senior majoring in computer science at UNC-Charlotte, has accepted the Laboratory Data System and Analysis internship, working with the Division of Air Quality in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Regan Buchanan, a sophomore double majoring in global studies and psychology at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Agricultural Safety Trainer internship, working with the Division of Occupational Safety and Health in the Department of Labor in Raleigh.

Allora Burke, a junior majoring in wildlife science at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Museum Education Program Assistant internship, working with the Division of Maritime Museums in the Department of Cultural Resources.

Lisa Callister, a sophomore majoring in graphic design at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Exhibits and Graphic Design Project internship, working with the Division of Aquariums in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Manteo.

Garrett Dimond, a first year law student at Campbell University School of Law, has accepted the Law Clerk for Supreme Court Justice Internship, working with the Division of Supreme Court in the Department of Justice in Raleigh.

Eleanor Fallaize, a junior majoring in marine biology at UNC-Wilmington, has accepted the Assistant Park Ranger internship, working with the Division of Parks and Recreation in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Carolina Beach.

Samantha Gaaney, a junior majoring in business administration at UNC-Greensboro, has accepted the Intern to the Chief-of-Staff internship, working in the Office of the Chief of Staff, working in the Office of the Chief of Staff in the Office of the Governor in Raleigh.

Amanda Gorman, a graduate student majoring in pharmacy at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Diabetic Education – Improving Treatment Outcomes of Diabetic Patients through Education and Pharmacist Interventions internship, working with the Division of State Operated Healthcare Facilities in the Department of Health and Human Services in Kinston.

Shelby Hammerstein, a sophomore majoring in environmental studies at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Discovery Room internship, working with the Museum of Natural Sciences in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Nathan Huvard, a junior double majoring in geography and music at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the GIS Mapper internship, working with the National Guard in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Joy Jackson, a junior majoring in business administration at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Planning and Policy Analysis internship, working with the Division of Administration in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Sabrina Karr, a junior majoring in public relations- journalism and mass communications at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the NCDPI Communication Specialist internship, working with the Division of Communication and Information in the Department of Public Instruction in Raleigh.

Andrew McCarty, a junior majoring in economics at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Transportation Utility Analyst internship, working with the Division of Public Safety in the Department of Commerce in Raleigh.

Hannah Murphy, a first year law student at Campbell University School of Law, has accepted the Summer Intern for Court of Appeals in the Department of Justice in Raleigh.

Jessica Page, a junior majoring in business administration at UNC-Wilmington, has accepted the Marketing and Public Affairs Assistantship, working with the President's Office/Executive Division in the Department of Community Colleges in Raleigh.

Zachary Rounds, a junior double majoring in computer science and English at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Electric Utility Data System and Analysis internship, working with the Division of Public Safety – Utilities Commission in the Department of Commerce in Raleigh.

Joshua Simkins, a junior majoring in natural resources at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Tracking Rare Species Using GIS and Biotics Conservation Database internship, working in the Office of Land and Water Stewardship with the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Sarah Smith, a junior majoring in communications at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Emergency Management Website Update internship, working with the Division of Law Enforcement in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Madeline Smith, a junior majoring in geo-environmental studies at UNC-Pembroke, has accepted the Geo-enabling Health Data internship, working with the Division of Public Health in the Department of Health and Human Services in Raleigh.

Adriana Szabo, a graduate student majoring in anthropology at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Visitor Evaluation of NC Museum of Natural Sciences internship, working with the Museum of Natural Sciences in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Toniqua Taylor, a junior majoring in political science at UNC-Greensboro, has accepted the Operation Medicine Drop & Other Injury Prevention Topics internship, working with the Office of the State Fire Marshall in the Department of Insurance in Raleigh.

Paul West, a senior majoring in criminal justice at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Planning and Policy Analysis internship, working with the Division of Administration in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Watauga County

Tara Early, a junior environmental science major at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Species Monitoring and Outreach Assistant internship, working with the Division of Coastal Management in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Wilmington.

William Nassif, a junior majoring in history at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Collections internship, working with the Division of Maritime Museums – Beaufort in the Department of Cultural Resources in Beaufort.

Alexandra Nguyen, a junior majoring in environmental health services at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Environmental Education and Natural Resources Projects internship, working with the Division of Parks and Recreation in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in West Jefferson.